Where Stone Becomes Poetry

HANDCRAFTED FROM THE SAME MOUNTAINS THAT GAVE THE WORLD THE TAJ MAHAL

30+ YEARS OF MASTERY | EST. 1993 | MAKRANA, RAJASTHAN

Born from Legacy

"We don't sell stone. We shape devotion. We sculpt legacy. We carve meaning into space."

- Established in 1993, Makrana, Rajasthan — sharing the same sacred marble legacy as the Taj Mahal.
- Not merely a commercial brand, but a proud continuation of a centuries-old artisanal lineage.
- Over 30 years of mastery; hands shaped by tradition and guided by unwavering devotion.
- Curators of sacred and spatial experiences, standing firmly against mass manufacture.

The Soul of Our Craft

01 Integrity of Material

Respecting stone in its purest form. We strictly reject "Khandit" (broken or patched) stones, guaranteeing uncompromised pure craft in every piece.

02 Mastery Over Speed

We follow the pace of tradition, not production lines. True artistry requires time—a single wall panel takes 3 weeks, while a heritage mandir takes 3 months.

03 Limited by Design

Each piece is an original, numbered and irreplaceable. Scarcity is not our strategy; it is the natural outcome of uncompromising, true craftsmanship.

SPARSH

Spiritual Craftsmanship

"Where Devotion Finds Form"

"A mandir is not furniture.
It is the axis of your home."
